

FOSTER

Former Governor
of Ohio Dead

He Passed Away at Noon
Today

AT HOME OF HIS FRIEND GEN. J.
WARREN KEIFER,

WHILE SITTING IN THE LIBRARY

Talking With Gen. Keifer and Others
He Fell Over Unconscious,
Dying Today.

Springfield, O., Jan. 9.—The condition of ex-Governor Charles Foster, who was stricken with paralysis at the home of Gen. J. Warren Keifer last night, is extremely critical this morning.

Dr. Shephard, superintendent of the Dayton Insane hospital, and Dr. Tobey, superintendent of the Toledo Insane
hospital, who are in attendance on ex-Governor Foster at 10 o'clock today
said that their patient was sinking.

This morning Gen. Keifer said: "It is peculiar that Governor Foster should be stricken down at my house. We have been great friends for over 30 years. I was perhaps the closest political confidante he ever had. We were boys together and I shared much of his struggles in the political arena.

"We were talking last night in my library. My son, Horace Keifer, and Judge Summers were with us. Suddenly Governor Foster pressed his hand to his side and fell back. We rushed over to him, but he was insensible. We knew what close friends both Supt. Shepherd of Dayton, and Supt.

Tobey of Toledo were of his, and we at once telephoned for them. Governor Foster is president of the board of directors of the Toledo asylum."

At 11 o'clock today Drs. Tobey and Shepherd pronounced Gov. Foster's condition hopeless. He had not regained consciousness.

Charles Foster died at 11:45 o'clock today. His daughter Anna, was the only one of the family able to reach his bedside. Bright's disease is said to have caused the paralytic stroke.

Chas Foster was born near Tiffin, O. April 12, 1828. He was elected to Congress in 1870 and was governor of Ohio from 1879-84. He was secretary of the U. S. treasury from 1891-93.
Governor Foster expected to attend the inauguration of Governor-elect Herrick
on Monday, January 11.

Columbus, O., Jan. 9.—By order of Governor Nash flags on all public buildings were half-masted on receipt of the news of the death of ex-Governor Foster. His death is a great shock to Governor-elect Herrick and Governor Nash, whose guest he was to have been next Monday and a prominent figure at the inaugural ceremonies.

Governors Appointments.

Columbus, Jan. 9.—Governor-elect Herrick today officially announced the appointment of Major Worthington Kautzman to be assistant adjutant general and Col. Edward T. Miller, now assistant adjutant general, to be assistant quartermaster general. At their request, Governor Nash today
placed on the retired list of the Ohio
National Guard retiring Adjutant General George B. Gyger, and retiring Quartermaster General George B.
Donavin.

To dock, scrape and paint one of the British ironclads costs an average of $20,000, and this has to be done often twice a year.

LAST SURVIVOR OF WAR OF 1812, AGED 103

Ava, N. Y., Jan. 9.—On a small farm cleared by himself more than 75 years ago, Hiram Silas Cronk, the last pensioner of the war of 1812, is now living near here attended by his daughter, Mrs. Sarah Crowley, now more than 60 years old.

Mr. Cronk was born on the 29th day of April 1800, at Frankfort, Herkimer county, N. Y., and is now 103 years old. His health is moderately good and he does not look to be as old as he is.
True it is that the old soldier's mind is growing weaker and he takes but little interest in present day affairs,
but he remembers vividly the stirring times of young manhood. Unlike the average old soldier, however, Mr.
Cronk does not like to talk of "war times," save to his own children, his youngest son now being 53 and his eldest 79.

"My father has always been sweet-tempered and lovely," said his daughter, Mrs. Crowley, "and now in his very old days we children can detect little or no difference in his loving consideration for us and his feelings for everyone. He is never out of humor and petulant, but is even tempered all the time. Throughout his life father has been an industrious, temperate and Christian man. With the sweet, childlike faith that was instilled into him by a pious mother when he knelt

at her knees and offering up that little prayer: 'Now I lay me down to sleep, I pray Thee, Lord, my soul to keep; If I should die before I wake, I pray Thee, Lord, my soul to take.'

"For about five years father has not slept at night, but remains awake,
singing, praying, talking, walking
from his bed to his chair by the stove,
and from the chair to the safe or cupboard; he eats when he feels like it,
but never more than a few bites at a time. Of course, I remain awake so that I can be on constant watch to prevent any harm befalling him. It is generally about 6 o'clock before he thinks it is time to go to bed."

Mr. Cronk and his two brothers,
Casper and John, and his father, Jas.
Cronk, enlisted at Western, N. Y., on the 4th of August, 1814, when he was just a little more than 14 years old.
The father and three sons served with Captain Edmund Fuller, New York Volunteers, in the defense of Sackett's Harbor.

For a number of years Mr. Cronk received a pension of $12 per month, but in February of last year Congress passed an act increasing the pension
to $25 per month.

PRITHEE, LET US DROP THE SUBJECT.

CORONER

SEEKS TO ESTABLISH CASE OF
GROSS NEGLECT.

Found the Person Who Opened Stage
Door—Proved to be Chas. Sweeney
a Fireman.

Chicago, Jan. 9.—Coroner Traeger examined the attaches of the Inglewood theatre this morning to establish a general case of gross neglect against the management. He questioned the stage hands inquiring for the man who opened the doors of the stage exit thereby causing a draught which sent the fatal burst of flames into the audience. His first attempt resulted in the discovery of the man. He proved to be Charles Sweeney, a fireman. Sweeney, who is merely a full grown boy,
and inexperienced in his vocation, discovered the fire. He tried to clap it out with his hands. He had had occasional visits to the flies of the theatre
and had never observed fire apparatus of any kind above the stage. No one ever instructed him where the apparatus was and he did not know the whereabouts of the stand pipe on the stage level. He had never been drilled or told what to do in case of a fire.

REED SMOOT

FILES HIS ANSWER TO CHARGES
PLACED AGAINST HIM.

He Declares that He is No Polygamist
and that He Has Taken no Inconsistent Oath.

Washington, Jan. 9.—The answer of Reed Smoot, senator from Utah, to the charges filed against him by various individuals and organizations throughout the country, was submitted today to the Senate committee on privileges and elections. It discusses the matter fully in its phases. It says
in part:

"This respondent is advised and avers
that but two of the charges made against him in said protests either directly or by implication are such as to true, could legally affect his right to hold his seat in the senate. These two charges are: First, that the respondent is a polygamist; second,
that he is bound by some oath or obligation which is inconsistent with the oath required by the constitution,
which was administered to him before he took his seat as a senator. Both these charges the respondent denies.

er of the Dutch party in Cape Colony

RAILWAY IS NOT RESPONSIBLE FOR DEATH

OF CATTLE KILLED IN BLIZZARD.

Bryan Arrives in New York—Teachers' Demands—Herrick's Appointments—Hanna's Denial.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 9.—The Supreme court of Minnesota holds the death of stock in a blizzard while in transit is an act of God, and declares
a railroad is not responsible for damages.

New York, Jan. 9.—The Holland-American liner Sturdy, brought word to guarantee at 9:47 this morning that the White Star liner Celtic,
with William Jennings Bryan on board, was anchored outside of Sandy Hook. She will not get in for several hours. Great preparations have been made by the Democratic friends of Mr. Bryan to welcome him back from his tour abroad.

Cincinnati, Jan. 9.—"We demand more money. No self-respecting teacher can live on less than $19 a month. We demand other changes in the school laws of the state." Such are the demands to be made on the Ohio legislature by the school teachers of the state. The demands were formulated today at a meeting of the legislative committee of the Hamilton county teachers' association. In some of the country districts teachers are receiving as low as $12 per month and an effort will be made to better their condition. An appropriation of $200-000 from the state school fund will be asked to be divided among the country districts where the low salaries are not sufficient to support a school conducted along modern lines.

Cleveland, Jan. 9.—Senator Hanna returned today from Chicago. A bill regarding the election of a President
after his reelection as senator, he said
"I know nothing of it as a senator, except that I have seen it in the newspapers. There is no foundation for it.
I deny it most emphatically."

FEELING

AGAINST THE UNITED STATES
IS HIGH

Colombians Are Ready to Fight—A Fleet of Warships Now Assembling at Colon.

Panama, Jan. 9.—A fleet of warships is assembling at Colon, presumably with the purpose of making a hostile
demonstration against Colombia.

The authorities will insist upon the withdrawal of the Colombian army
now lined up across the border this side of the Atrato river.

Naval officers feel certain that it is the intention to compel Colombia either to withdraw her troops or to fight.

It is believed in Colon the Colombians are ready to fight.
Washington, Jan. 9.—General Reyes is still awaiting the state department's reply to his request that the correspondence between him and the Washington government regarding the Panama incident be sent to the United States senate.

General Reyes has advices from Colombia that the feeling there continues high against the United States,
and while preparations are being made for hostilities General Reyes has been able thus far to restrain his people
from an outbreak.

It is quite possible that upon receipt of the state department's reply to his last note, General Reyes will leave immediately for Colombia.

In that event Dr. Herran, the Colombian chargé, will close the legation and return home thus marking the breaking off of diplomatic relations between this country and Colombia.

FATAL COASTING ACCIDENT.

Coshocton, O., Jan. 9.—Wallace Baker, the nine year old son of Dr. S. H.
Baker of this place, was fatally injured by colliding with a post while coasting down a hill. No bones were broken but the lad suffered terror-
able lacerations of the kidneys and his injuries are of such a nature that he cannot live.

daughter Mabel. All unwittingly the authorities saw that little Myrtha Bechtel, Mabel's sister, has forged a link in the chain of evidence by which it is sought to solve the great Bechtel murder mystery, and to send her mother to the gallows.

Myrtha quarreled recently with her mother. Neighbors overheard. The quarrel was carried on in Pennsylvania Dutch. Myrtha was reproved for writing too freely about the tragedy to her married sister, Mrs. Davis, in Philadelphia.

"I suppose you will write to her that we have quarreled," said the old lady, in Dutch.

Then she added the words above quoted, and which are part of the basis of the indictment for murder found against Mrs. Bechtel.

RIVED WITH THE INFORMATION
THAT THE STEAMER CLALLAN
SANK OFF DISCOVERY ISLAND,
AND THAT 25 LIVES WERE LOST.
THE SEATTLE VICTORIA STEAM-ER CLALLAN WAS A NEW VESSEL
AND COST $100,000.

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 9.—The steamer
Clallan, Victoria to Seattle, went down in a heavy storm near Port Townsend
in the strait of Fuca last midnight.
Twenty five persons, including fifteen women and children, mostly passengers, were lost. When the steamer went down she was disabled and in tow of the tug Holyoke, which, owing to a heavy sea could rescue only eight of those on board. The tug Sea Lion rescued 24 and brought them to Port Townsend. The Clallan carried 40 passengers and a crew of 20.

DEATH

OF JUDGE COLLINS OCCURS AT COLUMBUS

Attorney for Baltimore & Ohio Rail-

Saturday Morning.

Mr. T. J. Daly and Hon. Edward Kibler received telegrams from Columbus Saturday morning announcing that Judge Jas. H. Collins had died at Columbus at 4:20 o'clock Saturday morning. Judge Collins, who is well known in Newark, as district counsel for the
B. & O. railroad company, was about 65 years of age. He formerly lived at Barnesville, O., and had been with the
B. & O. company for more than 15 years.

ARMED FORCE SENT TO KOREA

By Japan, the Men Being Disguised as Immigrants—The Japanese Eager
for Battle.

London, Jan. 9.—(Bulletin)—According to a telegraphic dispatch from Hong Kong a report has reached here from a trustworthy source that the Chinese grand council has taken a stand for Japan and against Russia.
The council, the report has it, has decided to submit several propositions
to the dowager empress which include
the following:

(1) That China act in the offensive should Russia fail to withdraw from Manchuria.

(2) That China make an alliance
for offensive and defensive warfare
with Japan against Russia.

(3) That a government official be dispatched to Tokio to arrange such an alliance.

Port Arthur, Jan. 9.—The newspaper
Novi Krai asserts that Japan has already sent a large armed force of soldiers to Korea, disguised as immigrants.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 9.—It is expected here that if hostilities between Russia and Japan should occur there would be no formal declaration of war.
Diplomatic circles here do not share
the belief held in other districts that the sending of Japanese troops to Korea would not constitute a casus belli.
It is true that Japan claims the right to send troops to Korea without Russian consent, but under existing conditions it is thought such action would undoubtedly cause a collision between such troops and the nearest Russian force.

London, Jan. 9.—The brightest aspect of the far eastern situation this morning is the assurance that war between Russia and Japan, should there be such a clash, will be confined to those two countries with the possible siding of China with Japan. The first aim of the diplomatic communications which it is learned have been and are still passing between the powers not immediately concerned in the trouble was to isolate the conflict. This has practically been accomplished.

Tokio, Jan. 9.—It is now reported that Japan has practically determined to continue negotiations. The discussion may consume a few weeks during which interim a breach of peace is improbable.

London, Jan. 9.—England has used
her good offices to bring about a better understanding between Russia and Japan and has failed.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 9.—Russia is bending every nerve to get ready to fight Japan and war is now regarded as certain. Hurry orders have been issued for the delivery of shot and shell.

Washington, Jan. 9.—The State department is not so optimistic regarding the outcome of the trouble between Russia and Japan as it was several days ago. Acting Secretary of State Loomis said that the advices from the far East were not favorable for a peaceful settlement.

Genoa, Jan. 9.—Two Japanese war ships, Kasaga and Niasian, which were recently bought from the Argentine government, steamed eastward from Genoa this morning. As the vessels

HUSBAND GETS DIVORCE WIFE GIVEN CHILDREN

Now Mr. Bremigan Who Has Been Arrested on a State Warrant Wants Decree Reconsidered by the Court—Two Divorce Suits Filed—Court House News.

In the case of Emma Bremigan against Frank Bremigan for non-support of his children, some interesting developments are looked for. In 1902 Frank Bremigan sued Emma Bremigan for divorce in the Probate court before Judge Waldo Taylor. The plaintiff, Mr. Bremigan, was granted a divorce, but the custody of the two minor children was given to his wife, who afterwards brought suit in the Common Pleas court for alimony and was allowed $20 per month. Several days ago the divorced wife caused a state warrant to be issued for Bremigan for non-support of his minor children. Mr. Bremigan who is a baggage master on the B. & O. railroad, was brought here from Zanesville, and was taken before Justice of the Peace Thos. L. King, who released Bremigan on a bond of $100, and set the hearing for January 27. Mr. Bremigan has now brought suit in the Probate court to reconsider the former decree of the Probate court which gave his former wife the custody of the children and he asks for their custody. Attorney J. Howard Jones represents Emma Bremigan, and Smythe & Smythe Frank Bremigan. The case is a very interesting one and is being watched with considerable interest by the friends of the parties.

Divorce Suit.
Mary Southard Saturday by her attorneys, Smythe & Smythe, filed her petition in the Common Pleas court for divorce from her husband, John T. Southard. The parties were married about May 3, 1870, and one child was born of said marriage, Ruth Irene Southard. The plaintiff charges defendant with knocking her down and trampling on her with his feet, and in other ways mistreating her on numerous occasions. The defendant is also charged with habitual drunkenness and infidelity.

George Moore Case.
A petition has just been filed in the Circuit court to reverse the judgment of conviction in the case of George Moore, who at the last term of the Court of Common Pleas, was found guilty of burglary and sentenced to the penitentiary for ten years. Various errors are assigned in the petition.

Divorce Wanted.
Rachel Pryor, by her attorneys, Smythe & Smythe, has commenced suit in the Common Pleas court for divorce from her husband, Hugh Pryor, a well known saloon keeper of the East End. The parties were married in 1901 and there were no children born of said marriage. Extreme cruelty and other causes are alleged as cause of action.

ATTEMPT MADE TO ENTER RESIDENCE OF FATHER WEHRLE.

Sister of Mercy Holds the Door Which Two Men Were Trying to Force at Bellaire, O.

The following dispatch from Wheeling will be read with interest here, Father Wehrle being a former Newark man, and a brother of William W. Wehrle and August Wehrle of this city.

Wheeling, W. Va., Jan 9.—A bold attempt to force an entrance to the residence of Rev. Father Wehrle, at the head of Guernsey street, in Bellaire and into the home of the Sisters of Charity at the head of Belmont street, has come to light.

During the day four rough looking strangers went to the home of Father Wehrle. One had something to sell, two wanted old clothes, and the other managed to get into Father Wehrle's study. He was given an order for a night's lodging at the Globe hotel, but never appeared there.

One of the beggars tried to push past the housekeeper into the house, but was shoved down the steps into the snow. The other got his foot against a door, and was forcing it open when some one came along.

That night four men were noticed on the street in front of the residence, and as the housekeeper was coming one of the men came up the steps, and was pushing in the door when the woman shut it in his face.

She telephoned for help and Officers Stroble and McCreedy of the Bellaire force, with John Zweig, came. The men were seen going up the street to the Sisters' residence.

When the officers arrived they found Sister Agnes, who was in charge holding the door against two of the men. The men were trying to force their way in. Mr. Zweig promptly called to them, and one said he had an order to see the Sister Superior. He did not show it, and both made themselves scarce.

OFFICERS ELECTED BY AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

W. H. Kussmaul Elected President—The Fair for 1904 Will be Held on October 4-7.

The annual meeting of the directors of the Licking County Agricultural Society was held here Saturday. The auditing committee reported the transactions of the society for the past year to the Board, which made an unusual good showing. The net receipts for the fair of 1903 were $1,377.37. The various improvements that were made during the year on the grounds, in the way of new hog barns, roofs on building, etc., amounted to $1,484.55. A $500 bond was also paid. The total receipts of the fair in 1903 were about $1,000 better than they were last year. This gratifying result was largely due to the hard work and efficiency of the Secretary, Mr. J. M. Farmer and to the extensive advertising done by Mr. W. H. Kussmaul of the advertising committee. The books kept by Mr. Farmer, the secretary, and Mr. B. N. Sigler, the president, were found to be in splendid condition, these gentlemen having made model officers.

At the meeting of the Board Saturday the new members, being W. H. Kussmaul, T. W. Shannon, H. H. Baird and J. F. Locke, were sworn in, Messrs. Kussmaul and Baird succeeding themselves and Mr. Locke being the new member.

The new board then organized by the election of the following officers: President—W. H. Kussmaul. Vice Pres.—A. J. Crilly. Secretary—J. M. Farmer. Treasurer—Banning Sigler.

An executive committee consisting of the following gentlemen was also elected. Messrs. H. H. Baird, D. Burnside and I. W. Fulton.

It was decided to hold the fair this year on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, October 4, 5, 6 and 7.

It is estimated that $275,000 is the difference per annum of running the 25-knot ship, compared with the 25-knot ship.

Over half a million passengers travel by bus, train and tram from the suburbs to London by 10.30 every morning.

NEW TEAM TO REPLACE ALLEN AND MACK AT FIRE STATION.

Horses That Have Done Splendid Service Will be Used on the Streets of Newark.

Rollin Wilson, of the East End fire department, went to Somerset Friday and secured an option on a team of fine horses for use in the city fire department. Mr. Wilson made a thorough examination and secured the option for a week, which will undoubtedly be closed and the team purchased by the Board of Public Safety.

Mr. Wilson said today that the new team was perfectly matched, the two horses being an iron gray, each weighing about 1400 pounds in harness, and are six and seven years old.

The new team will be used in the West End house, while the one now in use there will be brought to the central department to draw the ladder truck.

The old truck team, Allen and Mack, who have given years of faithful service in the central house, will be turned over to the Board of Public Service and will do used on the streets.

This disposition of the old truck team may be necessary from a standpoint of economy and practical business sense, but one cannot help viewing the matter with a grain of sentiment.

For years these two horses have nobly and if we may use the term, cheerfully, responded to the call of duty, symbolized to them by the clang of the fire gong. As they left the house the two veteran servants seemed to understand every condition of the streets and other surroundings as well as their driver. Going at break-neck speed along a straight stretch of roadway, both horses with an unerring instinct knew where it was expected to make a turn, and even had the driver not been alert and careful, they would slacken their speed and make the turn without mishap.

Nearly two years ago the team was drawing the truck to West Newark one dark Saturday night, and a terrible accident happened in which Chief Bausch and Driver Priest were hurt on West Main street bridge. The horse, Allen, had a shoulder crushed but by the behavior of the horses, more serious accident was averted. Allen recovered under the care of a veterinary, and resumed his work.

The passing of this once great team now old in service is viewed at the "house" with feelings of regret by the men who have become greatly attached to the horses. It is to be hoped that when they go onto the streets, it will be seen that good hands care for them, and when age makes either horse unfit for work, let him be sent out and spend his remaining days in some quiet pasture retreat, remembering the scenes of excitement and pleasant surroundings in which he had taken a part that can be viewed with equine pride and satisfaction.

AMUSEMENTS. WILBUR MACK CO.

This company of popular players will be the next attraction at the Auditorium and will produce a list of metropolitan successes, and a repertoire of plays that the Wilbur Mack company have the sole right to present in the middle states. This is the company that broke all box office records last season and is repeating it this season. Wilbur Mack is supported by a fine company of players, and has as an extra attraction the very best singing soubrette on the American stage today in the person of dainty Gerlie Lewis, surnamed the pocket edition of Patti, a little lady who has a voice as sweet as a nightingale, and who knows how to use it. Wilbur Mack is an A. No. 1 comedian, with a magnetic personality that catches on at once, and is a favorite from the start. Besides their plays, the company carries an excellent list of head line vaudeville actors who work between acts, making a continuous performance. Prices are within reach of all, 10, 20 and 30 cents, and ladies will be admitted free on Monday night only, providing they are accompanied by lady or gentleman holding a paid 30 cent ticket, and that the seats are reserved before 6 p. m. on Monday. Secure your seats at once or you will be compelled to go "way back and stand up."

COMING JANUARY 19. Mr. A. G. Delamater, representing "When Johnny Comes Marching Home," the original company which recently appeared at the Great Southern, Columbus, was here today arranging for the appearance of the company at the Auditorium on Tuesday, Jan. 19.

The famous Whitney Opera company will bring the very latest comic opera success "When Johnny Comes Marching Home" to Newark. The entire production will be direct from the big New York theatre where it ran to crowded houses all last winter. The martial scenes, the old time songs, the spirited ensembles, the patriotic outbursts are all contributing elements to the success of this latest work of Stanislaus Stange and Julien Edwards. But it is perhaps the resurrected, the rejuvenated crinoline hoop skirts of 40 years ago that catches the fancy of most of those who see the opera. The chorus girl in hoop skirts is a pleasing novelty. She is picturesque and is brand new, and thanks to the ingenuity of the authors of the piece she is in much and pleasing evidence.

AMUSEMENTS.

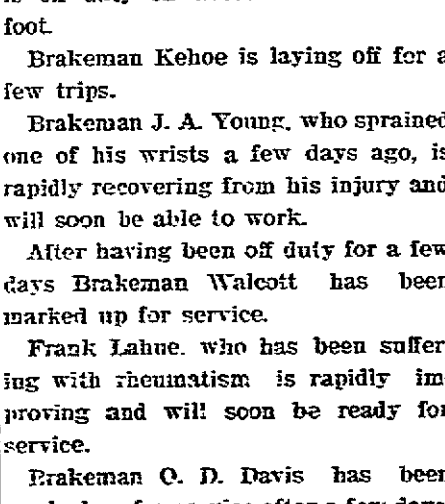

Wilbur Mack Co. This company of popular players will be the next attraction at the Auditorium and will produce a list of metropolitan successes, and a repertoire of plays that the Wilbur Mack company have the sole right to present in the middle states. This is the company that broke all box office records last season and is repeating it this season. Wilbur Mack is supported by a fine company of players, and has as an extra attraction the very best singing soubrette on the American stage today in the person of dainty Gerlie Lewis, surnamed the pocket edition of Patti, a little lady who has a voice as sweet as a nightingale, and who knows how to use it. Wilbur Mack is an A. No. 1 comedian, with a magnetic personality that catches on at once, and is a favorite from the start. Besides their plays, the company carries an excellent list of head line vaudeville actors who work between acts, making a continuous performance. Prices are within reach of all, 10, 20 and 30 cents, and ladies will be admitted free on Monday night only, providing they are accompanied by lady or gentleman holding a paid 30 cent ticket, and that the seats are reserved before 6 p. m. on Monday. Secure your seats at once or you will be compelled to go "way back and stand up."

COMING JANUARY 19.

Mr. A. G. Delamater, representing "When Johnny Comes Marching Home," the original company which recently appeared at the Great Southern, Columbus, was here today arranging for the appearance of the company at the Auditorium on Tuesday, Jan. 19.

$500 REWARD. $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY, CO. Toledo, O. Working Men Prone to Consumption.

A Letter from Miles Dougherty, the Great Labor Leader.

This newspaper has published recently the records of many cases of consumption that have been cured by Prof. Hoff's prescription for consumption as prepared by Prof. Hoff's American Bureau.

Another case that will interest the country generally and especially men engaged in industrial pursuits, is given to the Bureau by Miles Dougherty, who, as a general officer of the United Mine Workers of America, is well and favorably known to thousands of persons in all parts of the country.

Miners, iron workers and factory workers generally are more than ordinarily subject to the ravages of consumption from the very nature of their work. Mr. Dougherty tried the Hoff Cure for his son. What its effect was may be seen from this letter, as well as what it is doing for men whose means of making a living drives them into dark and damp mines which are breeders of the disease:

American Bureau, Bendiner & Schlesinger, Third Avenue and 10th Street, N. Y.:
Enclosed find $2. for which please send me six bottles of the medicine that you last sent me—that is, Prof. Hoff's Consumption Cure.

There are so many people asking me about your medicine that I wish you would kindly send me about two dozen bottles, as I wish them all to read about the Cure and the benefit therein contained. My little son is gaining in weight since he started to take the medicine. He has a wonderful appetite, and is now a great eater. His complexion and general appearance are very much improved. About my minor friend, I might say that it is wonderful what a change the medicine has made in him for the better. Before getting the medicine he intended to lay idle on account of his sickness, but the medicine has helped so much that he has been able to continue at work.

With compliments of the season, yours truly,
MILES DOUGHERTY,
Address: District No. 9, United Mine Workers of America, Shomokin, Pa.

Physicians are chary, indeed, about recommending other doctors' medicines. They know, however, that Hoff's Cure is not a patent medicine, and since Prof. Brouardel, the French medical savant, said it was the duty of all physicians to tell patients that consumption is curable they are freely doing so and prescribing Hoff's Cure:

American Bureau, Bendiner & Schlesinger, Third Avenue and 10th Street, N. Y.:
Enclosed find $1.00 for which please send me one bottle of Prof. Hoff's Cure. I have not yet asked anything of it that it did not bring about.

A. W. GUILLEY, M. D., 413 Centre St., South Easton, Pa.

Here is a man engaged in praiseworthy efforts to do all the good he may for his brother man. He is one link in the endless chain of mercy that is being forged by the Hoff Cure all over the land:

American Bureau, Bendiner & Schlesinger, Third Avenue and 10th Street, N. Y.:
Enclosed find $1.00 for which please send me one bottle of Prof. Hoff's Cure. This is my third bottle, and the results have been wonderful. I have all the confidence in the world in the remedy and believe it will cure me if I give it a fair trial.

W. E. SHEPHERD, 712 Hamilton St., Cleveland, Ohio.
Address: The Cleveland Theatrical Stage Employees' Union.

One positive indication that bronchial affections, asthma and catarrhal bronchitis lead unerringly to dread consumption is the unquestioned fact that THE ONLY KNOWN CONSUMPTION CURE also cures these troubles. George Rutherford, out in Nevada, has cause to feel thankful that this is true:

American Bureau, Bendiner & Schlesinger, Third Avenue and 10th Street, N. Y.:
Enclosed find $1.00 for which please send me one bottle of Prof. Hoff's Cure. I have no testimonial to offer in this letter, further than that I think I am entirely cured of the bronchial asthma, and I think I am greatly improved in the catarrhal bronchitis, all through the use of Prof. Hoff's Consumption Cure. I propose to continue with the use of the treatment for the next three months, or more if necessary, and if I continue to improve as I have in the last two months I shall evermore bless the Hoff treatment.

GEO. RUTHERFORD, Winnemucca, Nev.

Catarrh is a very dangerous disease, as well as an obnoxious one. If neglected it makes the reception of consumption germs easy. It frequently harbors latent consumption. Hoff's Cure cures it:

American Bureau, Bendiner & Schlesinger, Third Avenue and 10th Street, N. Y.:
I have been using Prof. Hoff's Cure for catarrh and find it to be the best remedy that I have ever used. It has checked my cough considerably, and I immediately felt better after using it.

B. H. KELLY, 94 Livingston Ave., Albany, N. Y.

Professor Hoff desires his cure to be in the hands of every sufferer. It is humanity's medicine. The prescription is compounded in accordance with Prof. Hoff's directions and sent out by the American Bureau at Third Avenue and 10th Street, New York, at $1.00 per bottle. For greater convenience the remedy may be had at the same price from the well and favorably-known firm mentioned below:

The triangular trade mark of the American Bureau of Professor Hoff's Cure must be on the label, and this is the guarantee to the purchaser that it is the exact prescription used by Prof. Hoff at Vienna.

A 64-page book, containing complete descriptive treatise on the Professor Hoff Cure, and accurate reports of several hundred cases, is mailed free on application or may be obtained by calling at these well known druggists:

IMPORTANT.—Other Hoff cures not bearing this triangular trade mark are not the authentic prescription authorized by the American Bureau. You can obtain the genuine Hoff Cure at all most drug stores. The great body of honorable druggists do not stoop to substitution by selling something "just as good" that means more profit to them. The genuine Hoff cure can always be procured of the well-known druggists.

WIGWAG'S FATE

By C. B. LEWIS

Copyright, 1903, by T. C. McClure

We were heading off the Indians as they raided the Kansas frontier when we found Wigwag concealed in the willows along the banks of a creek. He was a boy of twelve, and his father, mother and two sisters had been massacred. He was handed over to a teamster and taken to Camp Supply, and but for the excitement of campaigning he would have been sent off somewhere soon. As it was, he hung about with the teamsters for several weeks, no one giving him any particular attention, and then a sutler took him on. Wigwag was not enthusiastic over horses, guns or uniforms; but, queerly enough, he took to the signal corps. From the first moment he saw the men talking with each other through the medium of the signal flag his admiration was excited, and he began to pick up the system. He got little encouragement from any one, as all had enough to see to, but the lad had a head for the work, and he picked it up until within four or five months his flags could "talk" as well as any.

Spring came, and we set off 600 strong to give the Indians a rub. No one was greatly surprised after we had left the forty miles behind us to find Wigwag on hand. He had "jumped" the sutler, "lifted" a mule and followed after, and there was no sending him back. There wasn't a private soldier or teamster who wouldn't have shared rations with him, and such officers as knew of his presence winked at the breach of orders and said nothing. The boy had made signal flags for himself and had them with him, but they were looked upon as playthings by most of the troopers.

We swept across the valleys of the Big Fork and the Big Salt, scattering the hostiles whenever they made a stand, and at length crossed the Canadian river and forced the red men back on the Wichita mountains, down on the Indian Territory line. We had them on the run and meant to keep them going. Just at sundown one evening as we were almost under the shadow of the mountains Wigwag was cut off and captured. His mule had gone lame and was lagging behind. An effort was made to rescue him, but his captors got away with their prisoner, and many a heart sorrowed that night over

The First Gold Rush.

The voyage of the argonauts, the date of which is uncertain, was professedly a rush for gold, to be collected in fleeces placed in the torrents flowing down the flanks of Mount Caucasus. But older much was the westward movement, which Chaldean records of 3800 B. C. chronicle, to the gold bearing land of Melukha, afterward known as Midian.

Later on, but still at a very early period, there was a rush from Egypt to a spot inland from the present Suez. Long afterward this was described by Diodorus Siculus, who left a map, still extant, showing the wells provided for the gold seekers between the Red sea and the mines.

About 1000 B. C. there seems to have been another rush of miners in search of gold into South Africa. Its numbers can only be guessed at from the extensive remains that still exist, but it has been calculated that at least $350,000,000 was secured by these early adventurers.

In modern times the first rush was that to California in 1848-49.

The Wicked Multiplication Table.

A minister was hearing his Sunday school repeat the catechism one Sunday preceding confirmation when a boy from the class of small children ventured to ask a question of the minister.

Turning to the clergyman, the boy inquired in an anxious tone, "Why does the multiplication table make people wicked?"

The minister thought at first that the child had taken occasion to propound a conundrum at a most unseasonable time and was about to reprove him when the earnestness of the expression in the upturned face assured him that the question was asked in good faith and required a reply.

"Why do you ask such a question, John? I never knew it to do so," he said.

John turned to his catechism and read from it with a mystified air the question, "Did man grow worse as he began to multiply?" and the accompanying answer, "He did."

Not a Good Mechanic.

Intelligence is more than books and letters—it is knowledge of the forces of nature and ingenuity enough to use them for human service. The negro is generally acknowledged to be lacking in "the mechanical idea." In Africa he hardly knows the simplest mechanical principles, such as that of the lever. In America the brightest of negroes were trained during slavery by their masters in the handicrafts, such as carpentry, shoemaking, spinning, weaving, blacksmithing, tailoring, and so on. A plantation became a self-sustaining unit under the oversight and discipline of the whites, but the work of the negro artisans was "for the most part careless and inefficient." Since emancipation the young generation has not learned the mechanical trades to the same extent as the slave generation. Moreover, as machinery supplants tools and factories supplant handicrafts the negro is left still far behind—John R. Commons in Chautauquan.

HE HAD CAUGHT SIGHT OF FLAG WIGWAGGING IN THE CLEAR ATMOSPHERE.

the boy's fate. Our long and fierce pursuit had maddened the Indians, and they would certainly put their prisoners to the torture.

In flanking the mountains the Redskins must fall back through Trapper's pass in the foothills. We knew it to be a bushlike gorge, and at the south end it debouched upon the plains. We made camp within half a mile of the entrance of the pass, and every trooper knew that we had driven at least 2,000 warriors ahead of us. Would they continue their flight or wait for us on the plains beyond and have it out? The general idea was that the morrow would witness a big fight, and daylight had scarcely dawned after a night without alarm when our camp was astir. But for the Indians being too late we should certainly have fallen into the trap they had set for us. We were almost ready for boots and saddles when a score of warriors came riding out of the pass to defy and taunt us. A troop was sent against them, and they retreated in haste, but as soon as the bugle blew to call the warriors were mocking us again. It was a scheme to get the entire command on the move and after them without having taken due precautions. It was so interpreted by the general, and he ordered a scout to climb up a spur of the mountain and see what could be seen. When the man had reached a height of 1,500 feet he signalled for a flagman to come up to him. Looking away to the south, he had caught sight of flag wigwagging in the clear atmosphere of the morning. The person waving them was stationed on another and higher spur, and for some time it was looked upon as a mysterious proceeding. The signal man had scarcely climbed up beside the scout when the mystery was solved. It was our Wigwag trying to open a "talk" with his flags. When his signals were answered he went at it and spelled out the words:

BY THE HAND OF A CHILD

By HARRIET G. CANFIELD

Copyright, 1903, by T. C. McClure

"Martha Raymond ain't changed none since she was twenty, 'cept to get redder headed," the village dressmaker said to Deacon Lindsley's wife.

"I don't know," Mrs. Lindsley replied. "Seems to me she's more independent than ever since her pa and ma died."

"Think so? Well, she's still on the sunny side of thirty-five and got more taste than any young girl in town. She never wears red next to her hair—all ways black or white or green. I tell you an artist don't understand colors better'n Martha does. I wonder if Phil Gardner's proposed to her yet this spring."

"I guess not. It's usually a little later'n this he asks her—'bout when I'm half through house cleaning."

Every one in the village knew that Philip Gardner annually proposed to Martha Raymond and was annually rejected, but only the retractor and the rejected knew that old Mrs. Gardner was the cause of Philip's woe. Every year he had said, "Martha, won't you marry me now?" and Martha had replied, "Not if I must live with your mother, Phil."

Strange to say, he had never asked her to be more explicit. He had no idea of her reason for refusing to live with his mother. It was enough for him that she refused.

This year it was later than usual. Mrs. Lindsley had finished house cleaning when he climbed the steep hill road that led to the old Raymond homestead. It was early in the evening, and Martha was busy among her flower beds. She looked up at a conscious smile when the little gate clicked behind him.

"Good evening, Phil," she said. "Did you come to get some violets?"

"No," he replied bluntly. "I came to get you. Can't I, Martha?"

"Not if I must live with your mother, Phil," she said, with an air of finality.

To her surprise, he did not, as before, turn dejectedly away. There was a determined look in his eyes before which she trembled.

"I—I must go in," she said.

"Not until you've mentioned what you have against my mother." And he deliberately barred her way.

Martha's temper rose. "I wouldn't live with her for a farm!" she cried.

"AUNTIE'S GLAD YOU PUT THE PRETTY 'BU FLOWERS IN HER HAIR."

"She's as still as death. I like to sing and laugh and make a cheerful clatter, but your mother's house is as silent as a tomb. You can hear a pin drop there any time."

Philip heaved a great sigh of relief. "Mother wouldn't object to your clatter," he said smilingly. "Is that all?"

"All? Isn't that enough? Besides, I don't believe in living in the same house with my mother-in-law."

Philip's face clouded. "I can't turn my mother out even to please you, Martha," he said.

"No one wants you to turn her out. I'm sure. But I don't see why she can't live in the city with your brother."

"Mother can't sleep when she's there. It's too noisy."

"That's it. I should have to keep still all the time, and I'd set my heart on having a canary and a piano and one of those talking machines when I was married."

Philip smiled sadly. "If you change your mind about mother," he said, "you can let me know, otherwise I'll not ask you again."

Martha laughed scornfully. "I'm not likely to change my mind," she said. "When I do you'll see me wearing red flowers in my hair, and you know I'll never do that."

A year went by, and spring came again, but Philip, to the astonishment of the entire village, did not "go courtin'" Martha Raymond. The dressmaker exclaimed over the fact when she was sewing for Mrs. Lindsley:

"I declare," she said, "I believe Martha kind of misses it. When I was sewin' for her last week she seemed dreadfully quiet like. I noticed she didn't sing much neither."

"Serves her right for givin' Philip the mitten so often. I heard Widow Ramsey's son had been goin' there some."

"Yes, but she wouldn't give no encouragement, for she said he wasn't good to his mother. She says a man that ain't considerate of his mother won't be considerate of his wife."

Another spring came, and every eye was on Philip.

"He will go to see Martha now," they said to one another, but Philip did not climb the hill road. He had looked in vain for red flowers in Martha's hair.

One beautiful Sabbath morning in June Martha Raymond sat on the broad doorstep waiting for the "first bell" to ring for church. Her brother and his wife and little daughter were visiting her. Ruth was to accompany her to church. The child was playing in the old fashioned garden where larkspurs and roses ran wild. Martha called her, and she came running up with her hands full of blossoms.

"Pitty 'flowers," she said. "Rufe put some in Aunt Marfa's hair." And she climbed up on the broad stone and peeped roguishly into Martha's face.

"Only the blue flowers, dearie—the larkspurs. Auntie doesn't wear red in her hair."

"Yeth," lisped the sweet baby voice, "pitty 'bu flowers in auntie's hair." And she tucked a crimson rambler among the soft red coils. Then she slipped her little hand into Martha's, and they went to church together.

Philip and his mother sat directly behind them. The old lady looked inquiringly at the little child, but Philip's eyes sought Martha's hair, just as they had done in vain for two long years. He half rose from his seat, for there was the blessed red signal at last. He rubbed his eyes and looked again, and when the minister read, "What went ye out to see?" he murmured, "A red flower, of course." His mother laid a reproving hand on his arm. "Hush!" she whispered, just as she had whispered years ago to the restless youngster beside her.

Early that afternoon he climbed the hill road. Martha's brother answered his knock. She was in the garden with little Ruth, he said. He found them there among the roses and larkspurs.

"Martha," he cried, hurrying down the gravel path, "how can I thank you, dear?"

"Thank me," she said tremulously, "for what, Philip?"

"For wearing this." And he took the withered red rose from her hair.

Her eyes opened wide with surprise. "I didn't know it was there," she faltered. "I guess Ruth did it."

"Yeth," the baby lisped. "I dess I did—pitty 'bu flower."

Philip's face fell. "So it's all a mistake," he said sadly.

But Martha put her arms around her little niece and held her close.

"Tell him," she said, "that auntie's glad you put the pretty 'bu flower in her hair."

Seeing Six Generations.

A generation is admitted to occupy on an average a space of thirty-three years. Horace Walpole relates the following amusing instance of seeing six generations: "I was ten when I was presented to George I. two nights before he left England for the last time. This makes me appear very old to myself and Methuselah to young persons if I happen to mention it before them. If I see another reign, which is but too probable, what shall I seem then? I will tell you an odd circumstance. Nearly ten years ago I had already seen six generations in one family, that of Waldegrave. I have often seen and once been in a room with Mrs. Godfrey, mistress of James II. It is true she died. Then came her daughter, the old Lady Waldegrave; her son, the ambassador; his daughter, the Lady Harriet; her daughter, the present Lady Powis, and she has children who may be married in five or six years. And yet I shall not be very old if I see two generations more, but if I do I shall be superannuated, for I think I talk already like an old nurse."

The Battle of the Nile.

But for a pin prick there would have been no battle of the Nile. At one moment Nelson was fretting his heart out in vain quest of the French, with no one to furnish a clue as to their whereabouts. Next minute the secret was out—in a lady's boudoir. Sir John Acton, commander in chief of land and sea forces at Naples, was in his wife's room when her maid was putting the finishing touches to her ladyship's dress. The maid drove the point of a pin into her mistress and apologized. Some one had at that moment handed the maid a letter from her brother, a French sailor, from whom she had not heard for some time, and its receipt had startled her. Sir John Acton, foreseeing possibilities, offered to read the letter while the maid continued her attentions to her mistress. The moment he had read it he dashed off to find Nelson. The letter gave all the information as to the whereabouts and intentions of the French. Upon this Nelson acted, and the battle of the Nile resulted from that pin prick.

Wonderful Nerve.

Is displayed by many a man enduring pains of accidental cuts, wounds, bruises, burns, scalds, sore feet or stiff joints. But there's no need for it. Bucklen's Arnica Salve will kill the pain and cure the trouble. It's the best salve on earth for Piles, too. 25c at Frank D. Hall's drug store.

MOTHER AND CHILD

Scott's Emulsion is cod liver oil made almost as palatable as milk. It is easy and soothing to the weak stomach; it checks the tendencies of children toward thinness.

Scott's Emulsion gives strength to weak mothers because it creates healthy flesh and new blood.

Nursing mothers will find a special value in Scott's Emulsion because it insures a flow of rich, nourishing milk for the baby. More and better than a medicine; Scott's Emulsion is a food.

Scott's Emulsion is not a mere extract, containing imaginary "active principles" which do not exist, but is full of actual nourishment which sustains vital force and builds up the body tissues more rapidly than any other known remedy.

SAM RATTENBERG, Mgr.

A Useful Papa.

Can your papa make everything?

The way my pa can do?

Does he know how to drive in nails?

And does he keep the glue right in a corner of his desk?

Just to mend things for you?

When dolly's carriage lost a wheel

He fixed it in a minute

And made it just as good as new.

I put my babies in it

And took them out to ride that day?

He said he had to pin it!

And when my dolly's hammock came

He screwed those little hooks right in the wall to hang it on?

Just see how sweet it looks!

I have my clippers there sometimes

He mends my picture books

And all the little plates I break—

That's where he uses glue.

And, oh, he makes me wooden spoons

To stir mud pies with too.

Can your papa do all the things

That my papa can do?

A large number of Elks expect to go over to attend the affair. Road Not Completed. In the report of the visit of W. C. Peay, manager of the Opal Gold Mine, at Chesaw, Washington, with Dr. I. H. Robb, it was inadvertently stated that an electric railroad had been completed from Curlew to Chesaw where the arrangements have been completed, but not the road. Attention Company G. The armory will be open tomorrow at 2 p. m. for any to get their accoutrements that need them. The company will assemble at the armory at 8 o'clock Monday, leaving for Columbus at 8:30 sharp. Geo. C. Crawford, Captain Commanding. W. P. Myers, First Sergeant. The B. F. U. In the article regarding the public installation of the officers of the Bankers' Fraternal Union of this city, published in the Advocate on Friday, it should have been stated, that Mrs. Jennie Paxton, who has been the efficient deputy of the Council for the past year and a half, was entitled to great credit for her efforts during that time in promoting the growth and welfare of the Council. She has not only made a most efficient deputy, but has been one of the hardest working members of the Council.

DEAF MUTES

APPEAR IN MAYOR CRILLY'S COURT SATURDAY.

Teacher From Columbus Being on Hand to Act as Interpreter, but Case Was Dismissed.

About a week or ten days ago before Mayor A. J. Crilly, there were several affidavits filed against Sooy Dresbach, a young deaf mute employed at the Wehrle foundry, charging him with assault and battery on several women, also deaf mutes, all members of a colony of these unfortunate who live on North Williams street. Warrants were issued for Dresbach's arrest on several of the affidavits, and peace warrants on two others, the young man giving bond in each case and continuing at his work at the foundry. The case was set for hearing before Mayor Crilly Saturday afternoon, and the entire colony consisting of about ten men and women were in attendance, either as complainants or witnesses in the case, which was finally continued as Mayor Crilly could not attend. While waiting for the Mayor, the situation was explained to them by L. A. Oldbrecht, a teacher in the Deaf and Dumb asylum at Columbus, who came to Newark to act as interpreter at the trial as well as to act as interpreter between the complainants and their attorney, Charles H. Follett. It was indeed a peculiar sight, and one seldom seen in a court room, when Mr. Oldbrecht told them in the sign language what the attorney wished to say, and then repeated by word of mouth what the afflicted people communicated to him. Nellie Ingraham, aged 7, is a daughter of one of the couples, and she has escaped entirely the affliction of her parents. She is a bright little girl and uses the sign language as easily as she does the spoken. Dresbach is accused of entering a house where a party was in progress and assaulting several who were present, with the intention of breaking up the gathering, in which object he succeeded.

SAD DEATH

OF MORGAN WILLEY WHILE HE WAS EN ROUTE HOME.

A Newark Man Who Had Been Patient at State Hospital Died at Inter-urban Station.

Columbus, O., Jan. 9.—Morgan Willey died at the interurban station Friday afternoon under the most distressing circumstances. About three weeks ago Morgan Willey was taken to the Columbus insane asylum from the residence of his son in Newark for treatment. He had been unbalanced mentally for several months, the son states, having broken down physically and mentally from long years of work. When at home he was never violent, but was transferred to the asylum in order that he might be better and more systematically treated. His son, W. T. Willey, who lives at 594 West Main street, Newark, visited him a few days ago and instructed the institution officials that if he became worse to notify him at once and that he would immediately take him to his home in Newark. On Thursday the physicians notified the son that the father was worse and Friday he arrived to make the transfer. The father was taken to a back in waiting and had to be carried, and on reaching the interurban union station was carried and placed on a seat in the waiting room. The son says that when his father was turned over to him he did not look natural and he believes that he was in a dying condition at that time. However that may be certain it is that he breathed but a few times after being placed on the seat. Mr. Willey Jr. was accompanied by two men who rendered all of the assistance possible under the circumstances. The remains were turned over to an undertaker to be prepared for interment and the body was sent to Newark. Deceased was born in Licking county 71 years ago, and had lived in Newark for the past ten years. He was a carpenter by trade and leaves two daughters and five sons, all grown. The funeral of Mr. Morgan Willey will take place Sunday morning at 11 o'clock at Smith's chapel in Perry township, the interment being in the graveyard nearby.

MR. OLNEY WOULD MAKE AN IDEAL CANDIDATE.

We have had an inquiry as to what Mr. Olney really said in New York, at the McClellan banquet, about Grover Cleveland as a possible presidential candidate. It has naturally renewed discussion on the Cleveland question but we have no idea that it will change the "unalterable" judgment of the experienced not to be a candidate. What Olney said was as follows:

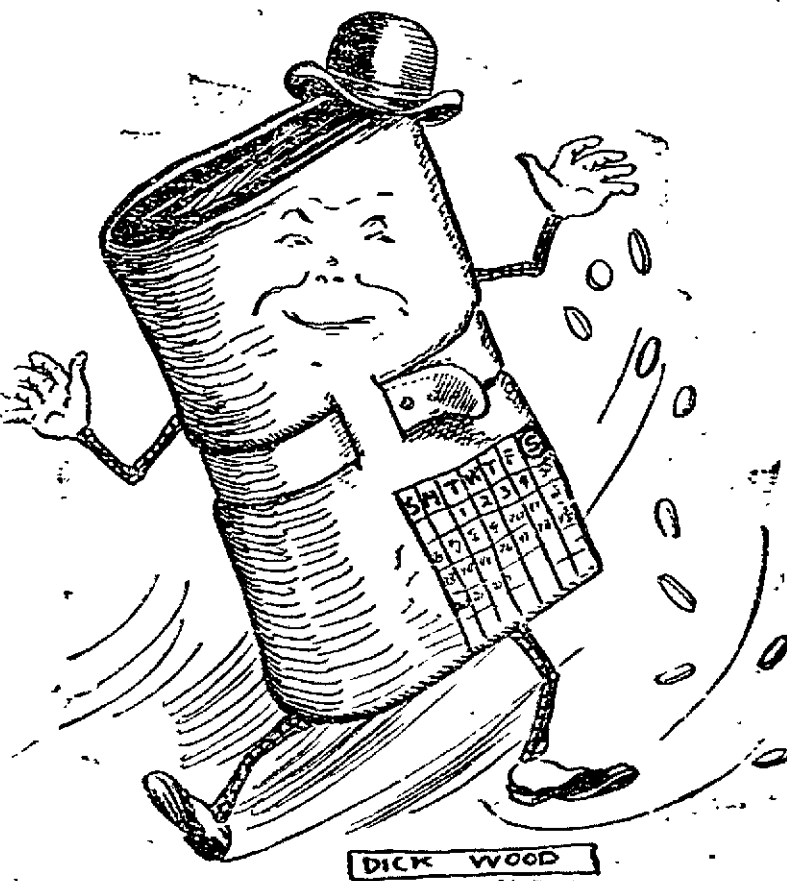

"The man of all men in the United States most capable of giving us the most representative and the most qualified to make it effective, the opportunity being given; the man with the proven courage of his own convictions, who never yet turned his back upon the approach of a public duty, and is too old to learn how; the man who, unfortunately, is necessarily absent on this occasion, a son of New York by adoption and whom New York has always delighted to honor—that man is former President Grover Cleveland, whose past record is a guarantee of wise and patriotic action in the future."

It is a significant fact that what Mr. Olney said in behalf of Grover Cleveland has had the effect of increasing the sentiment that had already existed for Mr. Olney himself. No man is more considerably discussed today for the Democratic nomination than is the former Secretary of State in the Cleveland cabinet. It is all right for Mr. Olney to speak favorably of the nomination of some other man, but the people are becoming more and more pronounced in their talk that Mr. Olney himself would make the ideal Democratic candidate.

Dislocated Her Shoulder.
Mrs. Johanna Soderholm of Fergus Falls, Minn., fell and dislocated her shoulder. She had a surgeon get it back in place as soon as possible, but it was quite sore and pained her very much. Her son mentioned that he had seen Chamberlain's Pain Balm advertised for sprains and soreness, and she asked him to buy her a bottle of it, which he did. It quickly relieved her and enabled her to sleep which she had not done for several days. The son was so much pleased with the relief it gave his mother that he has since recommended it to many others. For sale by all druggists.

Strenuous Strenuosity

Editor Advocate:—I have noticed the strenuous booming of the strenuous Roosevelt for the Presidential nomination by the strenuous American-Tribune with (almost) strenuous interest; and I have no doubt your esteemed cotemporary is strenuously sincere as well as sincerely strenuous in its course. In fact, I fear that it is carrying both its sincerity and its strenuosity too far; for if orders should some day be issued to all the Republican newspapers, office-holders and office-seekers in the State that they must come out for Mark Hanna, it might be impossible for a great big newspaper like the American-Tribune to make the necessary somersault with proper grace and agility, saying nothing about the strenuosity that would be expected at headquarters. An Injustice.

(Communicated.)

An article in the American-Tribune of January 8 does the undersigned an injustice and is in every statement wrong. I resigned as a trustee of the Painters' Union in August. The work done by me under written orders signed by Theodore Kleckler, William B. Hurbaugh and Mathew S. Ayers as trustees was not ordered done until October 7, three months after I had resigned and my successor, Mr. Kleckler, was elected.

As to the statements that I had withdrawn from the union that is absolutely false.

THE BOSSES

Will Dictate Legislation at Columbus--The People Representatives Will Have Little Voice.

Columbus, O., Jan. 2.—Making up the standing committees of the senate and house is usually a delicate and perplexing question to the lieutenant governor and speaker. Under the dispensation of Hannanism, however, this task is, like many others, greatly lightened for those who are responsible for the committees in name but not in fact. The bosses of the Republican party exercise as much power over these appointments as over those made by the governor. In fact there is no detail of legislation which the power of the boss does not reach, and the Republican is a rare bird indeed who can say that he holds any place of honor or profit within his party in Ohio except by the favor of Hanna and the small coterie who surround him.

It is evident that during the present session of the Legislature the moving influences representing Hanna and his crowd will be, as heretofore, Auditor of State Guilbert and Secretary of State Laylin. Mr. Guilbert is now drawing the first usufruct of his third term and Secretary Laylin is in pursuit of the same privilege for himself, apparently with the approval of the supreme boss. There is no disguising the fact that Auditor Guilbert will be Senator Hanna's personal representative in everything that pertains to legislation. Guilbert has a machine of his own hardly less formidable than the one operated by the junior senator, and his powers as a lobbyist, although often put to the severest tests, have always risen to emergencies in behalf of his chief. It was Guilbert who outlined the revenue bills of the Nash administration and at the same time held the political lines tightly in his grip, allowing no breaks anywhere to interfere with the purposes of his superiors. He will have his hand on the revenue proposition with equal emphasis at this session.

Secretary Laylin is a close second to Auditor Guilbert. Long training in the Hanna school has well established the fact that he "knows his business." His specialty is election bills and any legislation affecting elections will have to go through his fine Italian hand before its author can hope to have it take form and substance in law. The Republicans will not pass any honest primary law. The non-partisan demand for it from all parts of the state is tremendous, but there is no pressure great enough to force the Republican party of Ohio to voluntarily depose such bosses as Cox in Cincinnati, Hanna in Cleveland and Malloy in Columbus, as would be necessary if an honest primary law were enacted. Nevertheless such a bill will be introduced on the Democratic side and the Republicans will have to shoulder the responsibility of defeating it. They will offer an election bill as a sham measure of reform, but in coming campaigns the people will be made to understand that real reform of the ballot must begin at the primaries and that no laws governing elections can do away with present evils, until there is a change at the fountain head of present political corruption in this state—in other words, at the primaries.

Democratic Sentiment In Ohio.

(By William A. Taylor.)

There was recently sent out from Columbus 450 letters to that number of prominent and representative Democrats in the state, an average of 5 to each of the 88 counties.

The letters contained no suggestion, but a line of general inquiry which may be epitomized thus: "What can Ohio Democrats do for the good of the party and the promotion of Democratic principles, and of local and national Democratic success?"

The replies received numbered 407, and 43 are unanswered up to this day.

Five men recommended that the names of all Democrats who did not vote for the head of the ticket last year be ascertained and that they be expelled from the party as the first step toward doing anything.

Three named several prominent Democrats merely to abuse them, but suggested no course to pursue.

Two are anxious for harmony, but say that the platforms of 1896 and 1900 should be the test of Democracy in the next National convention and platform.

The remaining 397 replies urge and suggest harmony and union in the party ranks without imposing hard and fast requirements or tests of fealty. Some of the letters are long and many of them eloquent as well as earnest. Others are brief but perspicuous. They come from all the professions from manufacturers, business men, farmers from editors and from active politicians, the latter class being the fewest in number.

Written as they are in different words and styles and under different environments, they all breathe the same spirit: "Let us unite the party. Let us get together on these vital principles concerning which all Democrats are as one all of which are involved in the approaching presidential election. Let us put aside personal ambitions, bickerings and divisions which have been making Republican success possible for the last 10 years in 20 or more counties in Ohio. Let not the state itself."

This is the substance of the views of these 397 different writers, not one of whom had any reason to believe that any other man in the state had been called on to express his views in the premises.

Four or five of the most prominent Democrats in the state, men whose conservative judgment is known throughout the country, express the belief that if the Ohio Democrats unite this year, as they did in 1892, they will not only duplicate the work of that year, but complete it by electing the whole of the electoral ticket as well as a majority of the congressional delegation.

Nearly 100, while expressing great hope from unity of action, confine it to the recovery of some 23 counties to which the party is entitled, in addition to those they now hold, and thus put the party in a position which will enable it to capture the state in 1906.

A few mentioned the names of presidential candidates in a tentative way, and the score of preferences thus expressed were about evenly divided between the gentlemen most frequently spoken of in that connection.

But the grand chorus of all was: "Unite; let the Democracy of Ohio drop all bickerings, close up the ranks and take the place to which it is entitled in the grand army of the national Democracy in the great battle for human rights and representative self-government, which is to be fought this year." That is the exact language of an old veteran who helped to elect three Democratic presidents and wants to see one more Democratic national victory.

GRANVILLE NEWS

Granville, O., Jan. 3.—Friday evening the Sophomore boys of Denison very delightfully entertained the Sophomore girls and a number of other friends with a sleighing party. Four large bob sleds, each drawn by horses loaded down with jingling bells, conveyed the party to the pleasant country home of Mr. Thomas Owen, in the Sharon Valley, near the Newark and Granville road. They were given a hearty welcome and a most enjoyable evening was spent in playing all kinds of games, and in the discussion of a substantial lunch. The party returned to Granville about 11 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McGaw are visiting relatives in the village.
Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Kinkers of Hamilton, O., who have been visiting relatives near this place, returned on Friday.

John Farr was one of the lucky persons to draw a set of fine dishes at Wright Bros. grocery on the strength of "Mothers' Oats." The first package of the cereal he purchased contained the much sought after letter "O" and it was not long before he obtained the other letters spelling "Mothers' Oats."

A merry party of young people, about twenty in number, composed a sleighing party that drove out to the country home of John Deeds on York street, on Friday evening. The time was pleasantly spent in games of all kinds, and in the discussion of a fine supper.

Friday evening the Senior girls of the Conservatory of Music entertained the Senior class of Denison at the home of Miss Mabel Butterfield. The house was beautifully and artistically decorated with ferns, palms and cut flowers. Light refreshments were served and a very enjoyable evening was spent.

Little Juliet Barker is quite ill at her home on College street.

The literary societies of Denison and Sheperdson met as usual on Friday evening.

Miss Grace Harris of Pittsburg, who has been visiting friends and relatives here for the past few days, returned home on Saturday.

FOR THE LITTLE FOLKS.

On the left is shown a child's dress, for girl of six, made of tan purple and black. The yoke and cuffs are of purple tulle and purple lace. The skirt is of tan and white.
On the right is shown a smart dress, for girl of 12.
The dress is of the color of the collar and white pearl buttons adorn the
the dress is lined with white satin.

THE 1830 SHOULDER.

This pretty gown is made with the 1830 droop to the shoulders, effected by a bertha and yoke. This modish figure is also obtained by the high poise of the head, which lengthens the neck. It is an afternoon gown of cream voile, trimmed with lavender ribbon in perpendicular rows on bodice and top of full skirt and in bands about the full ruffles at the foot. Incrustations of heavy cream lace appliques also adorn bodice and skirt.

During the past week Mrs. A. W.
Dicken, formerly Miss Mame Taylor,
was the victim of two very pleasant surprises. On Saturday evening a number of her lady friends gathered at her home and celebrated her with a most complete outfit for the kitchen.
The ladies went to bed and after the showing of the gifts, the music was removed and a most splendid supper, light refreshments were served by the guests.

On Monday evening the lady employes of Mrs. A. W. Dicken's store again surprised her, and to show the appreciation of her friends, she presented her with many beautiful pieces

ter presided and conducted the devotional services most impressively.
The society is following the study of India and two excellent papers had been prepared on the subject "Caste in India," by Mrs. V. V. Overton, and "Zenana Work," by Mrs. John Wool-
son. A delightful reading on Foreign Missions was given by Mrs. E. P.
Childs. The truths brought out by the three numbers, concerning the degradation of the women in India,
show the necessity of Christian activity in that field. The society was favored with a sweet solo by Miss Ethel Wood, which added much to the original program. At the close, a social season during which light lunch was served by the committee, was thoroughly enjoyed. The February meeting will be with Mrs. D. M.
Black.

on West Church street. The occasion was also made a shower for Mr.
and Mrs. Grant, the bride and groom who are the guests of Mr. and Mrs.
Starrett, and are also their niece and nephew. Games, and questions presented to the bride and groom (and which were very wisely answered)
furnished the evening's entertainment. A very delicious lunch was served.
